BOARD LEADERSHIP MESSAGE

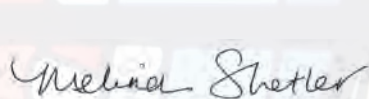

*“Life isn’t about waiting for the storm to pass...
It’s about learning to dance in the rain.”*

— Vivian Greene, Author and Motivational Speaker

It can be natural to focus all of our energy on the negative things that happen during a specific time period. In fact, that is often how we adapt to change and adversity. As you are all aware, there have been many changes that have come in the past year. Some of these changes were expected, but many were not. Despite the many changes (and quite honestly the extended proverbial “storm”), our Regina community once again prevailed!

At the end of the day, the purpose of the Impact Report is to highlight and celebrate the successes of our Regina community. There are MANY, and we are excited to share those with all of you!! We are blessed to have all of you contribute to the success of our school and we ask that you take time to review the highlights of this past 2019-2020 school year. We say “Thank You” for your generous gifts and appreciate being able to “dance in the rain” with all of you.

Sincerely,

Melinda Shetler
Board of Education Chair

Greg McLaughlin
Foundation Board President

NEW TECHNOLOGY

For the 2020-2021 school year, Regina invested in Chromebooks for students in grades 1-5. All students in grades 1-12 will have their own Chromebook to use at home and at school. Kindergarten students have access to iPads. All K-12 teachers have a new device called "Swivl" to help with hybrid learning. This device allows students at home to track a teacher's movements around the classroom. They can hear and talk to teachers as if they were sitting close to them.

Through the CARES Act, Regina was able to purchase higher-performing teacher laptops which provide a better streaming experience for online learning. Additional WiFi hotspots are available for students if they do not have internet access at home. To help facilitate increased internet traffic and the number of connected devices in the school, wireless access points, new core servers and switches were added throughout the building.

Preparing Tomorrow's Leaders

“While the learning environment changed last spring, the quality of education provided by Regina did not. I admire how Regina families, teachers, and staff were able to do a 180 degree turn and switch from in-person classes to an entirely online setting on such short notice. Despite the many things that changed last spring, the passion shown by Regina teachers and staff did not.”

—Abby Kaska,
Class of 2021

Adapt a-dapt /ə'dapt/
Verb: become adjusted to new conditions.

Regina Catholic Education Center has adapted, transformed, reshaped, reorganized and embraced change as a school community in response to the global pandemic that has impacted our world since early 2020. We have adjusted to new conditions.

We are proud of our faculty and staff's response to the mandated closing of Iowa schools in the spring, and our ability to transition quickly to online continuous learning to finish the school year for grades Pre-K to 12th. Our mission has held strong: Regina is committed to preparing tomorrow's leaders through a comprehensive educational experience focused on excellence and anchored in the teachings of the Roman Catholic Church. That mission hasn't changed during these circumstances.

Even while our buildings were closed, work behind the scenes continued. Our teachers prepared online learning opportunities and resources for their students and worked to keep our young people as engaged as possible. In other words, while our buildings may have been temporarily closed, school was still very much in session. We were able to provide our seniors with an in-person graduation ceremony, something many seniors across the country were not able to have. It looked a little different than years past, held outside on the football field and wearing masks, but the students in our Class of 2020 were able to walk across the stage, receive their diplomas and have that milestone memory that they deserved.

Regina Jr./Sr. High principal, Glenn Plummer, was chosen as the recipient of the Spark Award for the 2020 Innovation in Education Awards presented by the Iowa City Area Development Group and the Iowa City Area Business Partnership. These awards honor educators, students, and classroom programs that model the future of K-12 education. The Spark Award is given to an administrator who goes above and beyond what is expected in order to create a learning environment where all students have a chance to succeed and all instructors feel the freedom to innovate. Mr. Plummer was nominated by several individuals who highlighted his leadership and dedication to Regina students, staff, and school throughout the pandemic and beyond.

Our community of parents and families have been patient and understanding as we have worked to navigate an unprecedented situation and prepare for the 2020-21 school year. Regina has a dedicated committee who worked hard to create a versatile Return-to-Learn plan that allowed families to choose to return in the fall in-person, online/virtual or a hybrid plan using both methods. New technology was provided to our teachers so they would have the necessary equipment to simultaneously teach both remote and in-classroom students. We also expanded our student technology resources and have been able to give each 1st through 12th grade student a personal Chromebook and kindergarten students have received iPads to use both in school and at home.

We have a long road ahead of us, but we have adapted and, from what we have seen from our Regina community, we know we will come out of this situation stronger than ever.

“I’m amazed at the generosity of people like Carly Ambrisco. They give to Regina because they just want to help people. I hope I’m able to impact someone’s life someday like Carly has mine. This money just helps my family out and it makes me feel like I’m contributing to my family as well. I love Regina. I’ve been here my whole life. It’s like a safe place for me. I wouldn’t want to be anywhere else.”

—Tierney Sueppel,
Class of 2022,
recipient of the
Ambrisco Family
Scholarship

Living THE Promise society

The Living the Promise Society was established to recognize donors who have included the Regina Foundation in their estate and deferred-giving plans and to encourage others to do likewise. Such long-term objectives ensure the continued strength and growth of educational programs at the Regina Catholic Education Center for future generations.

Regina parishes

Regina Catholic Education Center is a community of faith. Our students and staff are blessed to be supported by the involvement of our school chaplain and our four parish pastors with leadership, service and direction. The formation of faith is the foundation of a Catholic school education. Families invest in a Regina education to experience excellence through instruction based on faith, character, knowledge and community.

The generous support from our parishes helps us to achieve the goal of providing this quality Catholic education to the students we serve from all income levels and backgrounds. Many of our students would not be able to attend Regina without the generous financial support of our parishes.

We thank Fr. Treviño, Fr. Adam, Fr. Beckman, Fr.

Juárez and Fr. Witt for generously helping to ensure that our students are successful and we are able to prepare them for life, college, and a continued relationship with God.

Rev. Jeff Belger, Newman Catholic Student Center

at Regina will be sincerely missed. We also take the opportunity to welcome St. Patrick's new pastor, Fr. Joseph Sia, and look forward to his pastoral leadership at Regina.

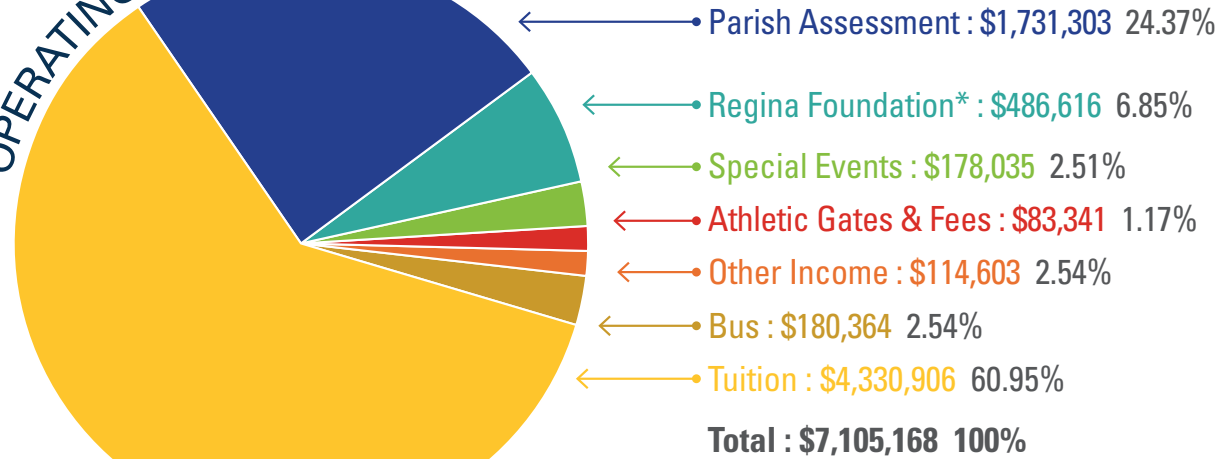

As we begin this new school year, we say goodbye and thank you to Fr. Rudy Juárez as he moves on to his new parish in Davenport. His presence

Right, Very Reverend Rudolph Juárez

OPERATING INCOME

*The Regina Foundation passed through an additional $351,990 in non-operational gifts. This included $220,277 for the new playground, $60,000 for restroom renovations and $71,713 for special projects and programs. Capital campaign funds passed through from the Regina Foundation totaled $2,751,410.

Regina FOUNDATION ENDOWMENT FUNDS

An endowment gift is a donation that is given with the intent to preserve the original value of the gift, and to grow it over time. The funds are held in perpetuity and invested, and the accumulated appreciation and income on the investment is used to fund an annual distribution.

Endowment gifts support students, faculty, and programs and ensure the long-term financial health and support of the Regina Catholic Education Center for years to come in addition to providing annual support.

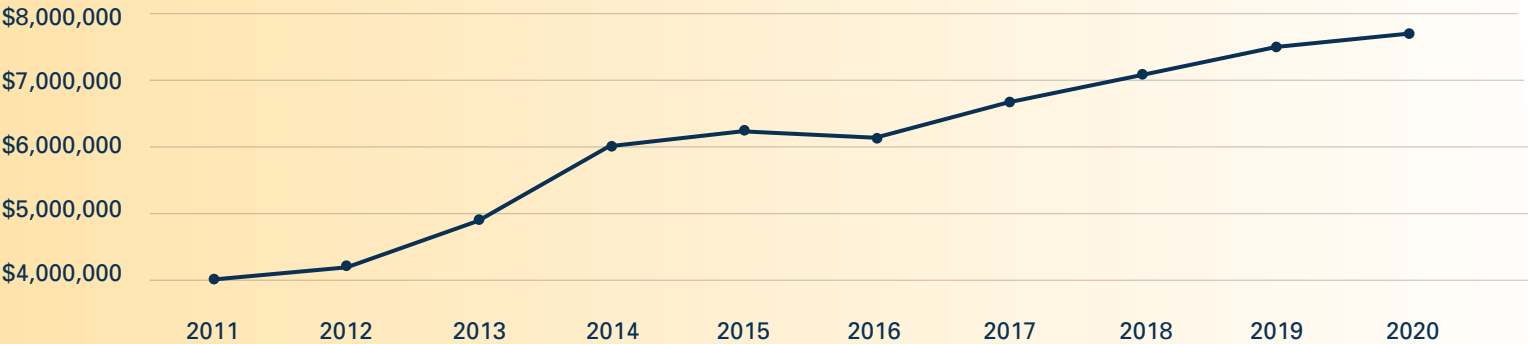

Making an endowed gift is one of the most powerful ways to have a lasting impact on Regina and our students.

In Gratitude

We gratefully recognize the generosity of the Regina alumni, parents, family, staff and friends (listed on pages 26-28) who supported the Pride in Our Past, Building Our Future Capital Campaign. Through their generous investments, they ensure the very best opportunities for students at the Regina Catholic Education Center.

Regina recently completed construction of a new junior/senior high education wing. The one-story addition features 11,723 square feet of new construction including four classrooms, a science lab and flex space for Regina junior and senior high students. Other features include a 2,750 SF lobby/atrium, concession stand, Spirit Store, athletic trainer's room, restrooms, trophy cases and an entrance for extra-curricular activities.

Students entered the wing for the first time when fall classes resumed on August 24. "It was awesome seeing students in the halls," said Glenn Plummer, junior/senior high principal. "There were many comments about how great the wing looks."

The new lobby area has been helpful as the school works to promote social distancing in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic. "The new lobby gives us another large space to use for lunch and classes," Plummer said.

Construction of the addition began on September 23, 2019, and finished a month early on July 17, 2020.

The project is one of the final components of the Pride in Our Past, Building Our Future Capital Campaign that launched in 2016 and initially raised $4.83 million in Phase 1, allowing Regina to address multiple needs throughout the campus.

The “exciting next step” for Regina will be converting the newly-freed-up space in the original structure into an expanded early childhood education center, Regina Elementary principal, Celeste Vincent, said. Currently, pre-kindergarten classrooms are in two separate locations in the school; having all classrooms in the same hallway will allow for more cohesive theming and programming.

WE DID IT!

We are excited to announce that we have exceeded our capital campaign goal of $7.8 million with a new campaign total of $7,949,356.

Our thanks to capital campaign co-chairs, Matt Pacha and Jason Dumont, and campaign cabinet members who worked tirelessly over the past several years to spearhead a successful campaign. We would also like to thank the project team, Regina Board of Education and administrators, and the 607 generous business and personal donors who helped to make this vision a reality for our Regina students!

FEATURED ARTIST: REV. EDWARD CATICH

You may recognize the art images throughout this publication if you are familiar with the unique slate and stained-glass artwork at Regina. You may not, however, know about their origins or their famous creator.

Rev. Edward M. Catich was the founder of the St. Ambrose College (now University) Art Department in 1939. He was known as one of the world's finest calligraphers; an international authority on stone incising, typography and stained glass fabrication; and the foremost authority on the Roman alphabet, its origin, nature and history. Although Catich was described as theologically conservative, he enjoyed shaking things up at the pulpit and through his art by being modern. "A basic principle of religious art is that we must express religious truths in contemporary terms," he contended. His calligraphy and stone cutting work won Catich an international reputation, and he created many slate inscriptions using his brush and chisel technique. He created two typefaces, Petrarch and Catfish. Many of his books were published under his own press, The Catfish Press, which operated out of his studio at St. Ambrose.

Rev. Edward Catich works on the installation of stained glass windows in the Regina Coeli Chapel in 1959.

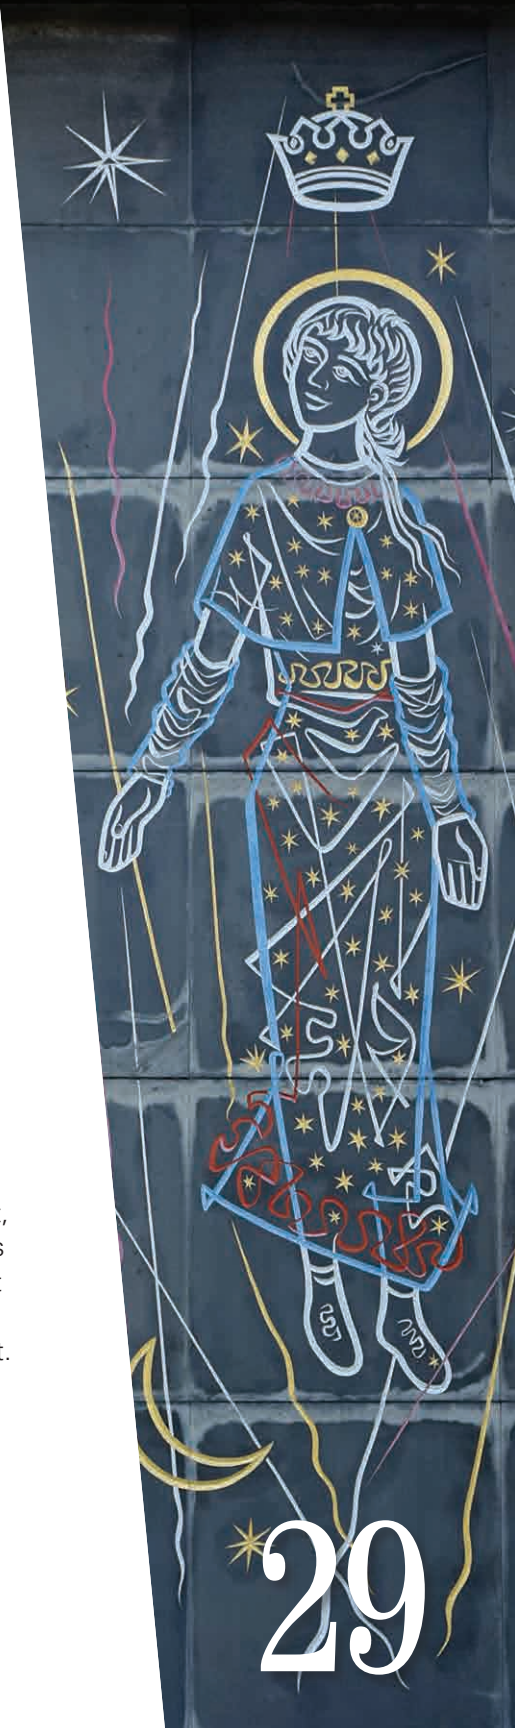

In 1959, he created Stations of the Cross for Regina High School that portray Christ and his contemporaries as modern-day figures "because," he explained, "[the stations] are to be used by people living today, not in the Medieval, Renaissance or early Christian era... I wish people to see themselves in these Stations and so in the Stations there are laborers, appeasers, intellectuals, and even little children — and all dressed in present day clothing.... We have Pontius Pilate on a swivel chair, glasses on his forehead and reading his legal documents. The soldier guarding Christ holds a left-handed Browning five-shot automatic." He also created interior and exterior images on two-inch-thick slate and stained-glass windows in Regina's chapel.

Other institutions which hold his work include Harvard University, Los Angeles County Museum of Art, Encyclopædia Britannica's corporate headquarters, and University of Pittsburgh's Cathedral of Learning and Benedum Hall.

The Catholic Messenger, which had published so many of his expositions on religious art, commented that "to the ordinary, he seemed a recluse of sorts," yet "the mark of talent is everywhere." Catich did not seek fame; it found him. He was "such an extremely modest man" who "could be quite ignored in his own town," said Kenneth Donahue of the Los Angeles County Museum. "But in Los Angeles, he's a famous man." In spite of his renown, Catich chose to remain at St. Ambrose. He was found dead in his studio on Good Friday, April 14, 1979, at age 73.

The next time you are at Regina, take some time to appreciate Rev. Catich's artwork, the importance of his theological message, and Regina's good fortune to have his famous talent on display.
